The Stone Cobblers, LLC. does not recommend honed material such as granite, marble or quartzite for usage as a kitchen countertop.

Honed material tends to show more fingerprints, cup rings etc. Honed material has more upkeep and is more susceptible to etching and staining than a polished stone. Nothing is stain or scratch proof - a polished stone is denser and more stain and scratch resistant. Even though the countertop is sealed with an oil based sealer upon install it does not prevent Staining or Scratching from occurring.

You will find-There is more maintenance to these type of countertops.

I understand the above information and will not hold The Stone Cobblers responsible for any staining or scratching issues with the _____countertop in which we have contracted with them to install.
